

CAREERS IN HOMEBUILDING

Craft Apprentices (Bricklaying)

Fairgrove Homes have 4 positions for Candidates educated to 'GCSE' level to become Apprentice Bricklayers.

The Opportunity

The successful applicants will work with our Qualified and Highly Experienced Craftsmen to gain a Level 2 qualification after 2 years and following on in year 3 to a Level 3 qualification.

In addition to on the job training a craft apprentice course will be followed at a local college.

The Ideal Applicant

You will be educated to 'GCSE' level, with good numeracy, literacy and IT skills and the desire to develop a career in a construction craft trade.

Practical, listens and learns, enjoys the outdoors

It should be understood that working on site is working outdoors and will be physical at times so a level of physical fitness is required.

Future Prospects

Our policy is to develop our own talent and the future prospects for our Apprentices are extremely good.

At the end of 3 years depending on progress it is anticipated that a full time position would be made available.

Future prospects can include supervisor roles and further training leading to site management.

Remuneration & Rewards

Starting Salary Scale £7,500 to £8,500 rising with 6 monthly increments subject to progress.

This equates to £144 to £163 per week.

Hours and days of work:

Site: Monday to Friday 8.00 to 5.00pm

College times may vary and can include evenings.

The Company

A local but growing company Fairgrove Homes Ltd builds distinctive new homes across the East Midlands and South Yorkshire.

A Family Business, we were founded in 1995, and are committed to building desirable new homes within our operating area.

It is important that applicants do not associate a small company with lack of prospects, because we are extremely receptive to rewarding talent and effort which may well go unnoticed in a larger organisation.
